THE TEMPLE BULLETIN

We are coming together as a caring, inclusive community united in a common commitment to Judaism and to furthering our spiritual growth. We desire to do this recognizing that worship of God, study of Torah, caring for the Jewish people and our community, are central to our being as a Reform Jewish congregation. With these principles as our foundation and guided by a historic past, we anticipate our future, one of continual lifelong self-renewal.

TORAH SELECTION:

Num. 4:21 – 7:89

Haftarah – Judges 13:2 - 25

From The Rabbi:

In only a matter of seconds our lives can change drastically for better or worse. Developing empathy is probably a good thing for a rabbi, but I have of late experienced enough suffering that I really did not need to take any more lessons. It is all relative of course. While recently sitting in the handicapped section while waiting to board the plane in a wheelchair, one can not help but notice those fellow passengers who are permanently disabled. Just today in the New York Times I read about an amazing athlete, Josh George, who is competing to become the fastest wheelchair racer in the world. He has taken wheelchair racing to the highest level of competition. I never used to notice wheelchair racing. One thing is for sure-if I take up that new sport, Patti will not be one happy camper.

Just this month we start reading from Bamidbar, the book of Numbers. Bamidbar means desert, for it is the story of the wanderings. It should make us all consider, where are we in our own wanderings through life? In only a few short weeks I have experienced a major accident, several surgeries with more to come, the death of my father, and the graduations of my daughter Kelsey from Middle School and Ethan from High School. Definitely I have been through a great deal of wandering through the desert, with some oases thrown in.

One of the great messages of Judaism is that the wandering through the desert is not random. It leads slowly, but critically to the mountain, to Mount Sinai. Judaism is the story of freedom, but not just freedom, but freedom that leads to commandment, to the giving of the Ten Commandments, to finding meaning and purpose in our lives-this is the story of the festival of Shavuot, Pentecost, and the time of the giving of the law.

Where are we wandering to and what are we wandering from? Each of us has our own story, for some so personal a story we never even tell to others. Of this we can be sure: even if do not know where we are headed, we are tenaciously moving forward, toward some mysterious place. If we can give our lives some thought, instead of being so caught up in the pace of living, perhaps we can make sure that we are moving away from the desert of our lives, and toward the mountain.

See you in Temple,

Rabbi Donald Kunstadt

Note to Congregation - Rabbi Kunstadt will be taking the last period of his three month sabbatical in the month of June. He will be returning to the Temple July 21.

From The President

As another year concludes we are preparing for opportunities the future will bring. Hopefully you attended the meeting on June first. I thought it was an excellent meeting enjoyed by all. It is rewarding to know how much support is in our community. I would like to thank all of our committee chairs, committee members and board members for their dedication in always placing the Temple's interest first when it comes to decision making.

As I begin the last year of my term I look forward to the road ahead. Have you thought about the part you want to play in assuring the future of the Springhill Avenue Temple? You have the opportunity to support the Temple in many ways, one of which is to have an Estate Plan which makes the Temple a beneficiary of funds for general use, a specific purpose, or our endowment fund. Please consult your attorney or accountant. I think you will learn that you can potentially benefit from a tax deduction during your lifetime here and beyond. This could reduce your taxable estate. There are other ways to endow the Temple while you are here with tax advantages which reduce the impact of your gift.

The Temple needs your support now, but it also needs your support in the future. Your professional advisor can assist you on the details. Thank you very much for any consideration you give. The Temple is always caring for our members and our community, and we know you care for the Temple.

From Your Archives...

According to Temple records, 43 congregants served in the military during the first World War. One such individual was Bertram Vogel, who enlisted in the U. S. Army on July 20, 1916, at age 27, and served until he was honorably discharged on May 19, 1918, at the rank of Corporal.

Bertram's exploits as an infantryman with Company K in France are written up in the Regimental Scrapbook, a journal of Alabamians' contributions to the war. In it Bertram is described as "a very conscientious soldier" who risked his life to deliver rations under fire to a stranded fellow soldier. Bertram completes the task, managing to allude the Germans while he was in "great danger."

In a letter Bertram wrote to his family while he was overseas in 1918 he tells them he is "quite well" and advises them not to send him anything as "we do not get over half our packages and those we do receive [have] most of the contents either lost or stolen in transit."

According to a story passed down through the Vogel family, Bertram was gassed several times during the War and even buried alive. He survived, returned to Mobile to practice real estate, and died in 1968 of a stroke at age 79. He is buried in the Temple cemetery.

Bertram never married and was survived by several nieces and nephews. He was the uncle of Springhill Avenue Temple's Fred Vogel and the great-uncle of current congregant Barbara Paper. (Special thanks to Barbara for sharing her information on Bertram for this article.)

(Note: In last month's bulletin article on Henry Schwarz, who was killed in Belgium during World War II, I mentioned that Henry was buried in a Belgian cemetery. Henry is actually buried in an American military cemetery, the Henri-Chapelle American Cemetery and Memorial, located in the Belgian countryside. Milton Klein provided this information, and added that several years after the war ended he took Henry's young son, Henry Schwarz III, to Belgium to visit his father's gravesite.)

Summer Torah Study

During the summer, while Wednesday and Sunday morning Adult Torah Study are not meeting, Cantor Mark Opatow will be teaching two special June Summer Torah Study sessions on Saturday, June 21 and June 28 at 10:30 a.m.

Everyone is welcome to join us.

Just a Chat With. . .Mike Jefferson

Mike Jefferson, the new custodian for Springhill Avenue Temple, has been on the job for less than two months, but already is saying of his position, "I like this job better than any I have ever had!"

Mike began work at the Temple on April 1st, following a long tenure as janitor for Dauphin Way United Methodist Church. He has had a varied background in sales, maintenance work, and supervision. Cleaning, Mike says, is "something that I am good at!" At the Temple Mike takes care of all custodial needs, as well as running errands, picking up supplies, and setting up for all Temple social and religious activities. He is present at most after-hours events to insure the building is cleaned and locked up properly.

Of the Pentecostal faith, Mike is quickly learning Jewish customs and traditions. He found, for example, that he was not to fill the Kiddish cup too full with wine. He says the congregants have all been very helpful and patient with him in learning the Temple routines. He credits the women of Sisterhood, as well as Debbie Clolinger and Susan Herring, for giving him guidance and assistance. "Mike is a delight to work with. He's got a great attitude, he communicates well, and his chuckle is infectious," Debbie and Susan said of Mike.

Mike especially enjoys setting up tables, chairs, and supplies for social activities. Anyone needing Mike's assistance in preparing for a special event, should contact Debbie Clolinger, who coordinates Mike's many tasks. Regarding special events, Mike makes one request: "Don't wait til the last minute! Fill out the required form as soon as possible--the sooner the better."

Mike is a graduate of Murphy High School and lives with his parents and sister in mid-town. When not at work he enjoys singing tenor in a gospel quartet, Harmony Ridge. He is proud of the quartet recently placing third in a contest related to the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life. He has also recently recorded a solo CD of gospel music.

If you haven't had a chance to meet Mike, look for him at the next Temple function. His hours are flexible and are dependent on when he is needed at the facility.

Caseworker Position Available with Jewish Family Services

Jewish Family Services (JFS) provides emergency help to people in situational crises as well as counseling, medical referrals, etc. A caseworker is needed for 10 hours/week to take referrals, coordinate cases, and answer JFS's phone. According to Priscilla Gold-Darby, "we get very few calls but if people don't contact one of the rabbis first, JFS is the point of contact." Priscilla asks that we help spread the word about JFS because very few people even know we have this kind of assistance in our community. Please call Priscilla at 476-6184 or Terri Grodsky at 478-4333 for more information.

BOOK REVIEWS

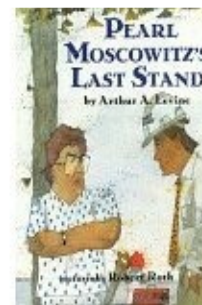

Jewish Renewal - by Michael Lerner

In this impassioned, profound manifesto, Mr. Lerner taps the roots of Jewish tradition through a close reading of the Torah, Talmud and Old Testament, seeking to reclaim the progressive impulse in Judaism which holds that nothing is inevitable about evil or social injustice. He then outlines a plan for Jewish renewal that combines commitment to family, community and tradition with a "revolutionary conception" of a compassionate God who makes freedom possible and who can assist in the task. At a time when Reform Judaism is seeking to remain relevant in our times, it is important to ponder other views. This book causes us to appreciate religion's role as a powerful tool by which we can change the world.

Pearl Moscowitz's Last Stand - by Arthur A. Levine

In keeping with the theme of changing the world, we find Pearl Moscowitz, noodle-pudding-maker extraordinaire, taking a militant stand when the city threatens to cut down the last tree on her blighted block. When an electric company employee arrives with a big saw, Pearl swings into action, first feeding the would-be woodcutter into near insensibility, the next day stupefying him with endless sheaves of family pictures. The third day, her resources exhausted, she chains herself to the doomed tree. A wonderful children's book teaching us how to be a real mensch in the world.

A Thank You was received from the Ecumenical Ministries in Fairhope, Alabama for the donation of food that was collected at the May 8th Eastern Shore Torah Study:

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you very much for your recent donation of items to our Food Pantry. The Pantry has been hit hard the last few months, so we greatly appreciate you thinking about us.

Donations from groups such as yours help us to keep a well stocked pantry to respond to members in our community that are in need.

Sincerely,
Sally Deane

It was a great year for our Temple Youth!

In December our Temple Youth enjoyed a Chanukah celebration at Ahavas Chesed Synagogue. In January they were part of the Bama Subs, an Alabama Jewish Youth program and in March, they participated in PHAB - Pizza, Havdalah and Bowling. The group was supervised by Ada Small, Itai Rosenfeld, with Karna Holbrook as junior advisor. We also bid a fond farewell to Religious School Director, Glen Mutchnick during a Religious School Appreciation Service.
